1 Lower Fox Valley Homes for a Changing Region

Today, Batavia, Geneva, North Aurora and St. Charles are very desirable communities to live in. Over the next 30 years, it's anticipated that more people will want to move into the area.

These four communities are working together to plan for their future housing needs through a project called Homes for a Changing Region (Homes). We need your help understanding what types of housing you would like to see in your community.

Tell us how you think your community should grow to accommodate more people in the future.

INTRODUCTION
✓ Berwyn Zoning Help us plan for future development in Berwyn!

En Español

The City of Berwyn recently updated its Comprehensive Plan, which created a community vision for the future. Now, the City is working with the Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning (CMAP) to update its Zoning Ordinance to better reflect that vision. We need your help to understand what types of development and signage you'd like to see in Berwyn's commercial areas.

What is zoning?

Zoning sets standards for the location of the building on the lot and the uses allowed on the lot as well as parking, signage, and landscaping.

ABOUT HOUSING!
www.nedupage.metroquest.com

The Village of Villa Park is working to develop housing strategies that make sense for our community. We invite you to share your thoughts and priorities on local housing strategies for the Village of Villa Park. Visit www.nedupage.metroquest.com or scan the QR code below. This quick and interactive survey will be available until March 27. The survey will also be available at the Villa Park Public Library, 305 South Ardmore Avenue, from February 24 through March 17 via a community kiosk.

Addison, Bensenville, Villa Park, and Wood Dale are developing a Homes for a Changing Region plan, which will chart future supply and demand trends for housing in their communities with the aim of creating a balanced mix of housing, serving current and future populations, and enhancing livability. Learn more about the Homes for a Changing Region study at www.cmap.illinois.gov/livability/housing/home2.
