HomeGrown: Tools for Local Farmers and Ranchers

GREENBELT.ORG

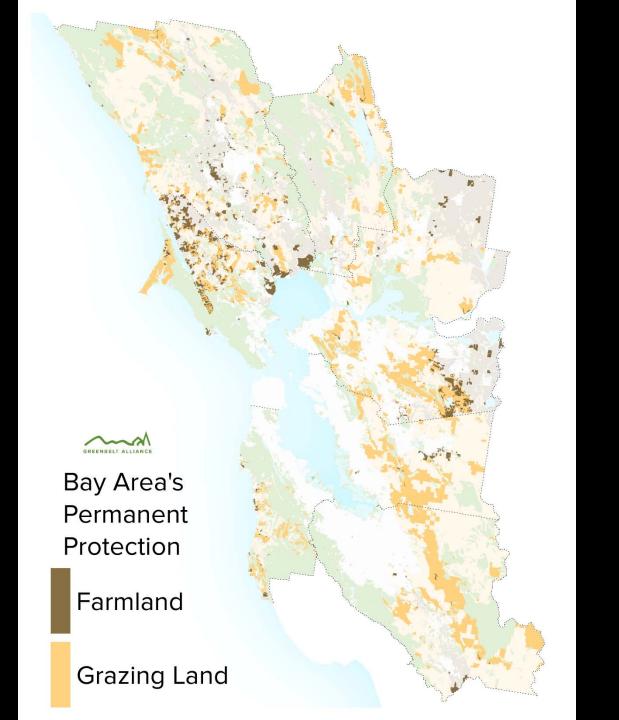

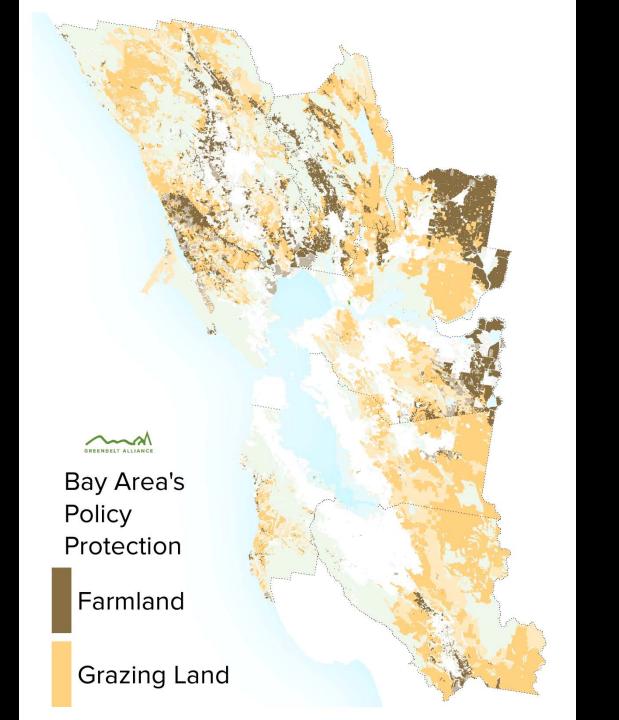

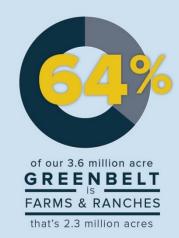

Annual Gross Production Value of Farms & Ranches

Total Economic Value

Acres of Farms & Ranches Lost To Sprawl Since 1984

That's an area of land more than 7x the size of San Francisco.

The threat of working lands being converted to urban development continues, threatening the region's food industry and the social, economic, and natural values it provides.

Regulatory Challenges

Regulatory Challenges

- Dedicated county personnel
- County regulatory improvement initiatives
- Resource conservation permit coordination

Land Conversion

Conflicts between landowners

New farmers and ranchers

Accessing regional markets

Funding

Adopt policy that supports farmers' rights, avoids converting working lands to urban uses, and mitigates for unavoidable loss of working lands

Dedicate county personnel to assist and advocate for farmers and ranchers on local regulatory and planning issues

Demonstrate and publicize the social, economic, and environmental values of the county's farms and ranches

Promote and market local farm direct sales efforts such as u-picks, farmers' markets, and community-supported agriculture programs to residents and visitors

Identify long-term funding mechanisms

What's Next?

Contra Costa County Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) Agricultural and Open Space Policy

GREENBELT.ORG